

Home of Nella Larson
Individual Landmark
254 West 135th Street

Home of Nella Larson. Photo: Lorraine Colbert

Occupied by Harlem Renaissance era novelist Nella Larsen, who, in 1930, won the first Guggenheim Fellowship ever presented to a black woman, after publication of her novel, "Passing."